- Questions?

Technology is changing the way we learn and changing the way we interact.

Technology can expand the reach of education.

Questions:

How has technology (for example smartphones) changed the way you learn?

How do you use technology in learning or teaching?

Abstract – Listening could be called the gateway skill to language. It is the natural precursor to speaking and a key factor in the early stages of language development. Providing opportunities for language exposure through listening could aid quantitative goals, such as vocabulary acquisition, and qualitative goals, such as boosting confidence. Alongside autonomy and the renewed focus on self-directed learning, a growing area of interest for many teachers and researchers is extensive listening (EL). This paper is aimed at teachers who are interested in implementing an EL program on a class-by-class basis or
