What are 'materials'?

Materials are anything used by teachers or learners to facilitate language learning.

- textbooks, worksheets
- word cards, board games
- audio recordings, video clips
- stories, songs, poems
- digital presentations (PPT files)
- newspaper and magazine articles
- recipes, photographs, brochures
- notes, drawings, tables, diagrams

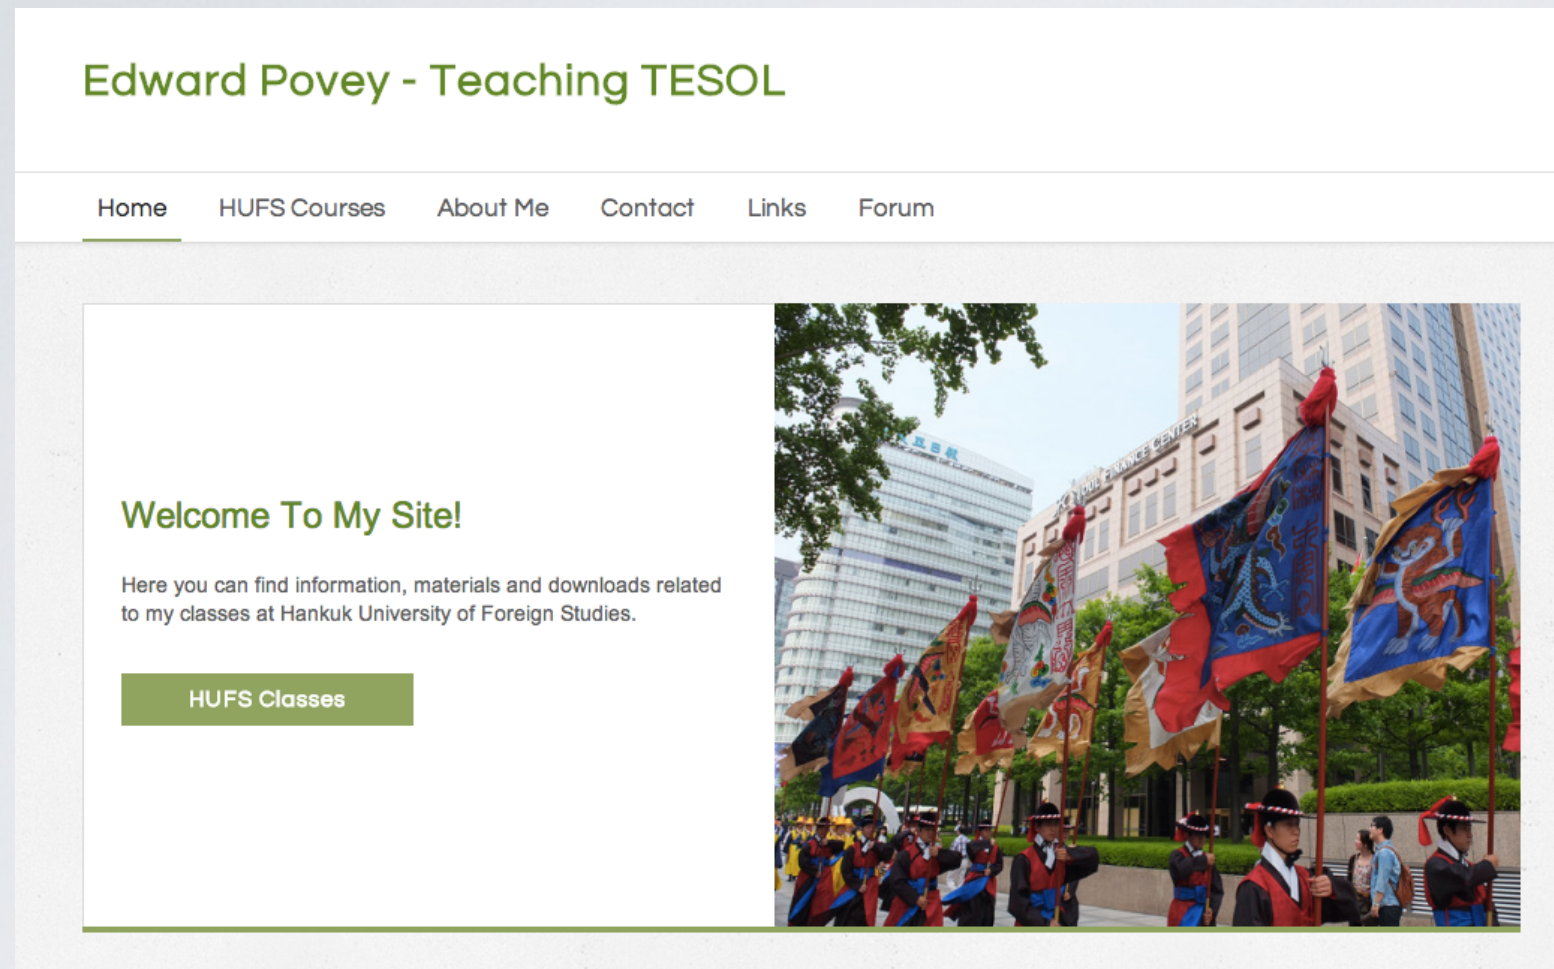

Materials can be found, or created by the teacher or the learner.

Why study materials development?

All language teachers

- use materials
- select materials
- create or alter materials
- create opportunities for learners to interact with materials
- integrate materials into lesson sequences
